You'll Agree With Us

You can't help it, when you examine the nice things we are showing this season. We have considered the prices too and have made them as low as possible consistent with fine make and trimmings. It's not our object to merely sell goods but to satisfy each purchaser and make them feel as though they get value for their money. Not cheap garments at a cheap price but garments that are classy and such as any lady can wear on the street or in the drawing room and feel the refining influence that comes when well dressed.

Capes Good This Season

We are showing something nice along these lines in such a variety of shades, both light and dark colors, beautifully made with plenty of fullness so as to gracefully drape the figure. You will see some beautiful Silk, Pongee, Rajah, Crepe de chene, Repp and Linen Dresses in all the newest shades. They are pretty and the prices very reasonable.

You will have a good figure if you wear a Henderson Corset.

A fine stock of Shirt Waists.

Don't Break Down

Severe strains on the vital organs like strains on machinery, cause break-downs. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down while enduring a most severe strain for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at P. H. Franklin's.

A Good Book

W. M. Shumaker, F. G. Sharpe and J. L. Jones, representing B. F. Bowen & Co., of Indianapolis, are in Marshall this week delivering the new "History of Saine County." The book is the handsomest yet issued and is gotten up in the best possible shape.

Judge Wm. B. Napton is the author and a splendid likeness of him is shown as a frontispiece. Besides the history, there are upwards of 300 biographical sketches of our leading citizens written in an interesting way. The work is a credit to our county and publishers deserve credit in the able and unstinting manner in which they did their part. The book is worthy of a careful study by all, as the better we know each other the more we will be in sympathy with the various motives and ambitions, and instead of belittling others will try to encourage them.

Success Seeds

To save time is to lengthen time. It's what you get done, not what you try to do, that counts. The man who is so wise he never laughs is the greatest fool of all. There's nothing more contagious than anger unless it's good nature. Give your customers a "square deal" and you'll give yourself one too.

Try to sell your own goods to yourself once in a while, and then take notes.

The Seeding of Oats

Experiments which the Agricultural Experiment Station has been conducting throughout the state have shown that for at least the south half of Missouri the Texas Red Rust Proof oat is the surest yielder that can be used. In the north half of Missouri the Texas Red Rust Proof is also well adapted, but in this section and even in many cases in South Missouri an early variety of oats brought directly from the north will yield better. These oats should be grown at least as far north as northern Iowa, and new seed should be secured at least every other year to insure a good yield of heavy oats. Another variety which has been shown to be quite well adapted to Missouri conditions, especially the prairie, is the Kherson oat. This is a very early early variety with a medium to small growth of straw and has its value mainly on account of its early maturity which lessens the amount of rust.

Experiments have also shown that for most conditions it is better to drill in oats rather than to broadcast them. This gives a more even growth and the increased yield will almost invariably pay for the cost of drilling. There is, also, a considerable saving of seed in drilling as compared with broadcast casting.

Oats should be treated for smut to insure a satisfactory yield. The Experiment Station will gladly send complete directions for giving this treatment on application. The expense is very slight and, if one is not sure that seed oats is free of smut, this treatment should be given.

Nearly at Bullet's Speed

Daytona, Fla., March 16.—Barney Oldfield, driving against time for a flying start, in a 200-horsepower Benz automobile of special design covered the fastest mile today ever traveled by a human being. His time was 27 53-100 seconds. Nothing projected into space by man save a bullet ever has traveled at equal speed. The previous record was set here four years ago by Marriott, who drove a special Stanley steamer one mile in 28 1-5 seconds at an average speed of 127 miles an hour. Oldfield's average today was 131.79.

Oldfield again launched his great car from a standing start for a mile against time and crossed the finish line with another record. His time was 40 53-100 seconds against 41 23-100 seconds made with the same car by Hemery in England.

The timing for both races was done by C. H. Warner, official timer for the American Automobile Association, with the same mechanical device he used at the Atlanta and Indianapolis speedways and which has been officially adopted by the association.

Ralph DePalma Oldfield's rival, who was unable to start against him because of a broken piston, as representative for the contest board.

A surveyor's certificate has been filed for the distance posts, and only the formal acceptance by the contest board is necessary before the record passes officially into the history of the annihilation of distance.

The best previous official record for the mile from a flying start by a gasoline car is two miles in 58 2-5 seconds—made at Ormond Beach, Fla., in a 200-horsepower car by Demogeot in 1906, at an average of 123.3 miles an hour.

The best speed ever made by a locomotive is five miles in 2 minutes 30 seconds over the Plant system in March 1901.

Glen H. Curtis, the aviator, covered a mile from a flying start in an 8-cylinder motorcycle in 46 2-5 seconds in 1907.
